Must Abandon Present Submarine Warfare

Washington, April 19.—America's note to Germany, made public here late today says:

"Unless the imperial government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight carrying vessels, the government of the United States can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German empire altogether."

"If," says the note, "it is the purpose of the German government to pursue relentless and indiscriminate warfare against vessels of commerce by the use of submarines, without regard to what the government of the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules of international law and the universally recognized dictates of humanity, the government of the United States is at last forced to the conclusion that there is but one course to pursue."

Some young ladies residing in one of the large buildings in town have been experimenting with a looking glass lately. Young men living in adjacent buildings have been disturbed in their morning devotions by a bright light shining around them. Had it come directly from the sky they would not have been greatly alarmed, but it rather upset their equilibrium to find it reflected from some not very beautiful young ladies, at no great distance away. Possibly these young women might be able to find a more profitable occupation, as the boys directed to are all "engaged!"—Ex.

MCLAREN LUMBER CO.

Compulsory Service League Is Formed

OTTAWA, April 16.—The Canada National Service League, with the object of compulsory service, came into being when the delegates who attended the conference of recruiting leagues formed an association. The meeting was not wholly pleased with a reply of Sir Robert Bondi to the Canadian Legion.

One member said it was necessary to obtain a register of eligible young men between the ages of 18 and 35 and if the government would not do it they would have to do it themselves in their own communities.

The following resolution was adopted: "Recommended, that an association be formed to hold together those who have been in conference in order that the work hereinafter begun shall be continued and that other forms of national service be taken up as need arises; that the name of the association be the Canadian National Service League; that the purpose of the association is to promote any form of national service which the need of the hour may demand; and that a chairman and secretary be appointed."

More Soldiers Than Letters in Bible

When we read in the newspapers (writes a correspondent of the Lancet) that the British army numbered 4,000,000 men, we remember that before the war was over about 4,000,000, we are a little at a loss for appreciating the comparison. The following method may help us to realize what this increase means:

There are 810,697 words in the Bible, and we had about that number of soldiers. There are also 3,593,480 letters in the Bible, and we can now consider every letter as a soldier instead of every word, as herebefore.

Also, we may consider that the first letter of every three verses is a medical man in the R.A.M.C., for there are about 10,000 medical officers now, and there are 31,175 verses in the Bible.

Morgan On The War

J. R. Morgan, back in his office after a trip to London and Paris, told friends who dropped in to see him that the talk of an early conclusion of the war was not based on a correct understanding of the conditions. He said it was true that the end of the struggle was in sight if one used that expression to mean that the turning point had been set by the attack on Verdun, but he believes that Germany would be a long time in being finished before she would cease to terms that the Allies were bound to obtain. Mr. Morgan again firmly convinced that Britain would never enter negotiations looking to a settlement until she was in a position to assure the world that the menace of another great war had been entirely removed.

The little town of Chilliwack, B.C., has certainly suffered through the war.

Out of the first 45 lads who went to the war there is but one left in the firing line. The others are dead, prisoners of war or invalided home.

That John Michelson, the hired man with the Macnichol family at Saskatoon, and brother to Mrs. Macnichol, wiped out that family and then killed himself was the verdict brought in by the coroner's jury at Wakanaw.

There are persistent peace rumors in financial circles in Holland to the effect that the Austrian government, in consequence of the grave domestic situation, is seriously thinking of abandoning its share of the war struggle.

A court of confirmation of the tax enforcement return of the Town of Blairmore was held at the town hall yesterday, presided over by Judge E. P. McNeill, of Macleod.

The court adjourned for one month.

Settlement of Farm Areas

Need For Better Planning and a Constructive Policy in Regard to Colonization

In the agricultural areas of Canada there is a crying need for a constructive policy, to enable colonization to be carried on under conditions which will produce greater and more extensive agricultural settlement. There is general agreement that the present methods are not satisfactory, and that the system of colonization as it stands is responsible for the failure. Many different reforms have been suggested, and have sufficient plausibility to be worthy of being enacted into law. More rural planning as well as town planning.

The need for reform has been emphasized as a result of discussion of the problems of the rural areas, of the need for rural planning and the like.

These men will want to earn a livelihood, and has been suggested that many will desire to turn to farming. There should exist to some extent, do we regard ourselves as being prepared to cope with it? In the oil country they are content to work for wages, but, if men who return from war want to get back to the land, is it not true that Canada offers better attractions than any other country? If we have the right system to make the most of the natural advantages we have? If we have a great demand for land, and we only need to have the supply to meet that demand, will it not be better to have co-operative farms in the making of purchases and distribution of produce, and to provide the necessary services?

with the increase.

When the tide of immigration again begins to flow, it will be time to re-examine to what extent it is wise to apply all our schemes of planning and social readjustment so that the welfare of the rural areas may be in keeping with our economic conditions, the stability of our productive enterprises and the health of our people. We in Canada are at a standstill which our industries are paralyzed because we have failed to prepare for peace, which is just as necessary as for war.

A scheme to successfully attain the desired objects must be so framed as to make the ultimate use of individual initiative, and to attract a large number of men with small capital and give some security of their success, to enable them to obtain financial support to be given to them more easily. The scheme of co-operative farms in the making of purchases and distribution of produce, and to provide the necessary services.

The Victor of Erzurum

Grand Duke Nicholas a True Russian, and is Popular With His Troops

Russia's Grand Duke Nicholas is not only a strategists, he is in this country. His critics say, for one thing, that he should never have gone to the crest of the Caucasus. He did not know the terrain, and was not fully aware of the difficulties of the campaign.

On the other hand, his defenders say, that the Grand Duke did not know the terrain of the Caucasus, but for corruption and inefficiency in Petrograd, which held up long-overdue orders, and the long return of the right to command.

However that may be, as a commander of men the Grand Duke is a true Russian. He is a strict disciplinarian and has incurred the dislike of some officers who have felt his displeasure, but the soldiers love him because he is a true Russian. They know that he is fair and that he is a man of good heart, a keen sense of humor, and a keen sense of humor.

He is a man of the people, and is one of the two or three most popular men in Russia today, in spite of the fact that he is political, and that he is a man of the people.

Prisoners of War In Germany

Treatment Accorded British Prisoners in German Camps

There are many contradictory reports of the life of allied prisoners of war in Germany, and it is hard to know how much of the one or the other is due to the fear of the censor and how much to the locality in which the prisoners are confined. In which our own men are confined, the men have proved gentlemanly foes on the battlefield, conditions are as good as can be expected; but in the north and the south, the conditions are as bad as neglect would be unbearable if it were not true.

Of the petty and continuous insults received, apart from the real depravities, one exchanged, prisoner writes:

"It letters arrived with stamps on them, they were never delivered, till the stamps were torn off, and then were solemnly and carefully cut in half. Petty, wasn't it? Then newspapers were distributed which were directly translated from English newspapers, but we just laughed and said: 'It's all a pack of lies.' Which did not stop them from telling the same kind of stories. Prussian officers would march through the villages (the writer was a wounded prisoner), and when they were told in English they'd say through their teeth 'schwenn' and pass on."

"But the food," he went on, "or the lack of it, was the worst of the whole. The cooks would not eat the food as they wouldn't give us boiling water. So we let the tap run until it was as hot as it would go and then made coffee!"

DOODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

After Experimenting With Other Medicines Max Hanjook Found In Dodd's Kidney Pills the Cure That He Sought.

Plaisant Home, Man.—(Special)—Mr. Max Hanjook, a well known resident of this place, who, after an extended stay in the United States, has come back strong and healthy again, is spreading broadcast the good news that he found a new lease of youth in Dodd's Kidney pills.

"I tried all kinds of other pills, but they didn't help me very much," Mr. Hanjook says. "But Dodd's Kidney pills have made me feel strong again. I feel like a young fellow again. I want everybody to know that Dodd's Kidney pills have done, for me everything that has been claimed for them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make men and women feel young again because they spread all the heat over the body to the kidneys. They make the kidneys strong and healthy and thus put the body in a strong and healthy condition.

This does not seem much but the figures begin to look impressive when we consider the numbers of cows. In 1911 there were 2,594,174 cows, an increase of 185,502 compared with the census of 1901. The increase in the number of cows in 1911 over 1901 was only 7 per cent, but the total increased milk production for the same period was 43 per cent. The number of records is held to be largely responsible for the improvement in quality and in view of the excellent results it is difficult to understand why the dairymen do not keep tabs on the individual production of their cows. It costs a little in time and money to do this but the increased number of cows the production was still increased during this period to the value of about $25,000,000. This is quite a considerable time being spent on testing.

Gain From Cow Testing

Keeping Tab on the Individual Production of Cows is Well Invested.

The keeping of dairy records was started in Canada about 1901 and at that time the average yield of milk per cow was 2,500 pounds. The number of record centres has been gradually increasing and so has the milk production. By 1911 the average production had increased to 3,505 pounds per cow. The number of record centres does not seem much but the figures begin to look impressive when we consider the numbers of cows. In 1911 there were 2,594,174 cows, an increase of 185,502 compared with the census of 1901. MORE THAN EVER Increased Capacity For Work

Many former tea and coffee drinkers who have mental work to perform day after day, have found a better capacity and greater endurance by using Postum. A woman writes:

"I have been drinking Postum for twenty years, and finally found that the doctor called 'coffee heart.' I was nervous and extremely despondent; had little mental or physical strength left; had kidney trouble and constipation." (The tea is just as injurious because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.)

The most noticeable benefit which followed the change from coffee to Postum was the improved action of the kidneys and bowels. In two weeks the hair on my head was greatly improved and my nerves steadier.

"Then I became less despondent, and the desire to be active again and the desire to renew physical and mental strength.

I formerly did mental work and had to give up on account of coffee, but since using Postum I am doing more mental work with less fatigue.

Name given by: Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Postum—In two forms.

In the Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled, 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder which is quickly made in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly.

Instant Postum—two forms.

"There's a Reason" for Postum—sold by Grocers.

The House By the Side Of the Road

HERE are hermit souls that live in the woods, in the hills,
There are souls, like stars, that dwell in a fellowship of armament;

There are pioneer souls that blaze
their paths

When the highways never ran—
But me live by the side of the road.

And be a friend to man.

Let me live in the house by the side of the road.

Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good, and the men

As good and bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorner's seat,

Or hurl the cynic's han

Let me live in the house by the side of the road.

And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road.

By the side of the highway of life.

The men who press with the ardor of the diabolical, the bold, the bold, directly translated from English newspapers, but we just laughed and said: "It's all a pack of lies."

Which the world will not believe.

But me live by the side of the road.

And be a friend to man.

Let me live in the house by the side of the road.

Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are wise, foolish—so I.

Then why should I sit in the scorner's seat?

Or hurl the cynic's han

Let me live in the house by the side of the road.

And be a friend to man.

—Sam. Walter Foss.

If All Played Out,
Try This Prescription

They are good, they are bad, they are wise, foolish—so I.

Then why should I sit in the scorner's seat?

Or hurl the cynic's han

Let me live in the house by the side of the road.

And be a friend to man.

—Sam. Walter Foss.

Viewing and Shellling

A letter from France says: "There is a most terrific fight going on on our right. The roar is continuous and the smoke is thick. We are not in it at present, but may have to join in at any moment. We have done a fair amount of shooting since we have been here, the Germans having done as they deserve to."

"The destruction is too awful for words: all round villages and towns are laid flat! What has become of the people? God knows."

The recently bombarded Durazzo is a port that has played a prominent part in both ancient and modern warfare.

The Greek city of Epidamnos is not as well known as the more famous Troy, but the Peloponnesian city, which was much harassed by these civil jealousies and fears. The Romans called it Dyrrachium, and indeed it was a most active and important port, and derived its name from the fact that it became the principal landing place on the route from Brindisi to Greece. A great military road to the Hellespont was built through it, and it became the capital of a Byzantine province.

BLAIRMORE - ALBERTA

St. John, New Brunswick, has adopted the daylight saving plan, and the council has unanimously placed a by-law in the civic record providing that the clocks shall be put ahead one hour on the last Sunday in April each year, and turned back one hour on the last Sunday in September. Halifax has adopted a similar scheme.

The increase in Canada's military forces automatically doubled the task of the Canadian Red Cross at the beginning of the year. All available statistics show that the country is bearing this increased Red Cross strain most admirably. The records of the Central Shipping Depot in Toronto show a progressive increase in shipments. The monthly average is now over 6,000 cases. The reports of various branches prove the same healthy condition of activity.

The "White Feather" troupe were received at the opera house last night by the largest audience that has attended a theatrical performance for years. Every character was well represented and the play was highly appreciated.

A young man in Blairmore had a tender passion and took his girl some flowers. "How kind of you," said the girl, "bring me these lovely flowers. They are so beautiful and fresh. I think there is some dew on them yet." "Yes," said the young man, in great embarrassment, "there is, but I'm going to pay it off tomorrow."

In response to numerous requests, Mr. Amos has decided to operate the Star Studio, Blairmore, for a longer period than at first contemplated. Open daily, best work, popular prices. Get your photographs taken now.

The Need of Production

It is not possible to the most obstinate and unreasoning mind that a twenty-four to twenty-five million of men cannot be withdrawn even from the swarming population of Europe without effecting a large reduction in the produce of labor and of the soil. Women may in a measure supply the places of men, but it must be remembered that women have also their sphere in the economics of life. Therefore in taking them to the land they are being taken, in the main from other employment. Consequently, if every man who goes to fight there was a woman to take his place in agriculture or other industry there would still be a deficiency not only in labor but in production. At the present time 400,000 women are being called for to take the place of 200,000 British soldiers recruited from farm work.

It is clear that no matter what steps may be taken either during the war or after the war, there must be an enormous shortage of the requirements across the Atlantic for many years to come. And that shortage for a period subsequent to the declaration of peace will be as keenly as any time during the gigantic struggle. With the normal scramble for existence resumed there will be less immediate government control—in other words there will be less systematic regulation of supplies. To meet the demands that must succeed extra continental, tremendously less production and immensely greater wastage, will be necessary. The year's crop of last year's harvested crops, but for similar blessings during a score of successive years. Where and how can this assured demand be met? There is but one answer to the dual question—the under-vastened countries and by redoubled efforts at production in those countries.

That Canada is, not the only country that has not had its resources in large part exhausted or destroyed, is true; but there is plenty of reason to believe that the nations of Europe not engaged in the war, have been drawn upon to the utmost by those who engaged; hence when the European allies all eyes will be turned from east to west for supplies. Canada being the nearest to the great centre of demand, will, of necessity, apart from sentimental reasons, be the first looked to and will have the greatest opportunity. The bogey of released Russian harvests have been on paper since the war commenced, but Russia, with twelve or fifteen million men still in arms largely of the peasant class, has suffered and is suffering, like the rest. She, too, will need reorganizing, rejuvenating and regenerating. Hence, for a few months after the outbreak of hostilities, there may have been something to be expected from the release of stores of wheat and other grain from Odessa and other Black Sea ports there is nothing available now and there may be little for the next decade. Hence, Canada's rôle is plain—to go on producing, to go on preparing and storing, if necessary, in the sure and certain hope of ultimate profit and prosperity. There never was a time, and probably never will be another time when we were more urgently called upon to produce, in increased quantities, not alone all articles of food, but every articles that enters into the industrial life of peoples.

Cowley Happenings

The threshing of last year's crop is still going on.

Misses Florence and Edith Gilmore drove to town on Friday.

Mrs. F. Lank spent a few days last week with Mrs. H. C. Morrison.

Otto Iredale and family have moved to their homestead near Warner.

Everybody seems to be busy these days with crops, gardens and poultry.

The boys and girls are still busy with the gophers. Stick with it, kiddies.

The April showers fell in the form of snow off and on all day Saturday.

Mr. Tustian, senior, who has been on the sick list, is getting around again.

Elwin Tustian went to Burdett as assistant station agent the early part of the week.

W. H. Hilton and John B. McDonald are among the latest to enter into motor-dom. We understand that they intend to operate a train in opposition to the C.P.R.

W. Hilton is in receipt of an interesting letter from Thomas Marsh, which we hope to quote next week. Mr. Hilton has also heard from Fred Parker and others, all of whom give good reports.

R. Niven has received a letter from Sam Paton, who is now in a hospital in England, and hoping soon to return to the firing line. Many of the stories circulated regarding Sam's illness were very much in exaggeration. Sam is now feeling quite well, and only awaits the order to go.

school, gave a lecture on the Red River settlement in the school room on Tuesday night, which with some musical numbers was quite a success. The proceeds go to a new outfit for the school bairnies.

While Mr. Percevalt was hunting a straw stack recently, the fire got away on him, burning part of his fence and then getting into Mrs. Smith's field, where it approached to within twenty feet of two granaries filled with grain. However, they were luckily saved by the plowing of a fire guard around them in the nick of time.

Mrs. McLaren had quite an exciting experience on Friday last. At Mr. Iredale's gate the team became frightened at a dog and got away, losing Mrs. McLaren and half of the wheels in negotiating the gateway. The buggy and all but two of a setting of goose eggs which she was taking home, were almost a total wreck, but Mrs. McLaren with her usual luck, escaped injury.

Production and Thrift

"To win the war will be a task which will last as long as the Empire itself. It requires to put forth its full collective power in every way. From this viewpoint it is our true policy to augment our financial strength by making our productive exertions and by exercising rigid economy, which reduces to the minimum all expenditures upon human and non-human necessities. Only in this way shall we be able to make the maximum contribution to the war effort, so much of our nation's industrial activities, repair the waste of the war, and find the funds for its continuation. It cannot be too frequently or too earnestly impressed upon our people that the heaviest burdens of the conflict will be borne by us, and that industry and thrift are, for those who are honest, heroic, patriotic, and successful, the surest guarantee of our success, and consequently of our national safety, may ultimately depend."

SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance.

PRODUCE MORE, SAVE MORE.

MAKE LABOUR EFFICIENT.

SAVE MATERIALS FROM WASTE.

SPEND MONEY WISELY.

LET US PRODUCE AND SAVE—

The war is now turning on a contest of all forces and resources—mankind, food, money. The call to all is to produce more and more. It may be necessary to work harder. The place of those who will not be taken by the hand to help and work is not in the ranks of the idle. The man who produces the more we can save. Produce more on the farms and in the gardens. Save more and help to win the war.

LET US NOT WASTE OUR LABOUR—

In this war-time all labour should be directly productive or should be assisting in producing. If your labour is on something that can be postponed, put it off until after the war and make it labor to the best of your ability. Making war is the first business of all Canadians. Efficiency in labour is as important as efficiency in fighting.

THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

LET US NOT WASTE MATERIALS—

Begin at home. The larger portion of salaries and wages is spent on necessities—food, fuel, light, clothing. Are any of these things wasted? $20.00 a year saved from waste in every home in Canada will more than pay the interest on a war debt of $500,000,000.

LET US SPEND OUR MONEY WISELY—

Are you spending your money to the best advantage? What do you think of extravagance in war? Tens of thousands of Canadians are daily spending their money on unnecessary luxuries. Let us be careful and economical! Canadian dollars are an important part of the war equipment. Make them tell. Have a War Savings Account. Buy a War Bond.

A fatality unparalleled in the history of the little military town of Sussex, New Brunswick, occurred Tuesday morning of last week, when Mrs. Jennie Cook, a nurse, died from a bullet wound in the head inflicted by Private Frank L. Best who held a rifle, and who was acting as sentry on guard at a dairy school. Best was exonerated by a coroner's jury. It seems that the sentry fired at a man acting suspiciously in the vicinity of the camp, and the bullet went through a window and caused the accident.

Great interest is being manifested by local people in the coming of the Royal Gwent Welsh Male Singers who are to appear at the Coleman opera house on Saturday night of next week, under the auspices of the Coleman fire department.

The company comprises fourteen voices, and the combination is said to be the strongest that has ever toured from the greatest land of singers. In order to ensure accommodation of adults, all seats are reserved at $1.00 each, and from the local management at Coleman we learn that already over two-thirds of the seating space of the opera house has been bought up.
